

YOU ARE THE FESTIVAL

A festival is only as good as its punters. All we can do is try our hardest to create the right conditions, but if you act like a jerk, that's all in vain. So, treat others with respect. Pay attention to the artists on stage and save your anecdotes for between shows. Be courteous. Learn mosh pit etiquette. Smile. Applaud our wonderful volunteers. Make room for someone when they try to pass by. If you accidentally bump into someone, offer to buy them a drink to make amends. It's a team effort. Left of the Dial is all of us.
