

SORRY WE WILL GET REALLY BIG

People often tell us they like Left of the Dial just the way it is, and they don't want it to get any bigger. We fully understand you, but tough luck buddy. Expanding the festival means we can allocate more resources to support additional bands. Bands in an early stage of their career will have all the benefits of playing to larger crowds. As a loyal punter, you surely won't object to that, will you? We promise we'll do anything to make certain the festival will be as fun as it's always been. Cross our hearts!
